Tcho Tcho

The tcho tcho live on the plateau of Tsang in Tibet.

They worship Shub-Niggurath and the water-themed Great Old Ones (Cthulhu, Dagon, Hydra, etc).

Their liturgy is called the R'lyeh Text. It's in R'lyehan, which they use as a sacred language. Copies of the R'lyeh Text are typically bound in human skin.

The tcho tcho alphabet is an abugida that bears a strong resemblance to the Brahmic languages.
